A glimpse at the world of P&C Actuarial Work and Why We Should Care

What do those property & casualty actuaries really do and how do they do it? This presentation will give life/health/pension actuaries a glimpse into the world of property & casualty actuarial consulting, including:

1. A brief introduction to property & casualty (major coverages, how we approach things differently from life/health/pension)
2. Workers' Compensation basics: how it's different from normal healthcare, etc.
3. Some analysis on Oregon & California workers' compensation.

Michael Harrington, FCAS, MAAA; Director Property & Casualty Actuarial Services, Bickmore

Mike Harrington joined Bickmore in June of 2003 and has over 20 years of experience in the actuarial field, including ratemaking, reserving, financial modeling, and catastrophe management. He provides actuarial and risk management consulting services to public entity pools and self-insured organizations. Prior to joining Bickmore, Mike was with Allied Insurance-Nationwide Insurance as an actuary in the Commercial Multi-Peril and Automobile lines, a Director at CalFarm Insurance Company, managing aggregate catastrophe exposure growth, with emphasis on earthquake peril and with The Doctors' Company responsible for large account pricing for Physicians and Surgeons Medical Malpractice coverage. He has also served on the Examination Committee of the Casualty Actuarial Society.

Mark Priven, FCAS, MAAA; Director Regulatory & Alternative Risk Consulting, Bickmore

Mark is an actuary with extensive experience serving both public and private agencies and pools over the last 15 years. Active in the risk management industry, he currently serves on the California Workers' Compensation Insurance Rating Bureau Actuarial Committee and the Associate Member Council of the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions (IAIABC). Mark is a frequent speaker at industry conferences on a variety of topics, including Enterprise Risk Management, insurance regulation, impact of workers' compensation reform, total cost of risk, actuarial reserving, insurance versus gambling, benchmarking, and measuring the effectiveness of risk control.
