Description

New technologies, apps, and healthcare companies are entering the health care landscape at a rapid pace and changing the way that health care is being delivered, how consumers engage the health care system, and how analytics are performed. Attendees should expect to learn about the impact of some of these changes on the health sector, the insurance industry, and practice of the actuarial profession.

Matt Holman

Matt Holman leverages broad experience working across healthcare sectors to identify, create, and strengthen meaningful partnerships and interactions between Echo Health Ventures portfolio companies and their target customers. Prior to joining Echo, Matt spent over a decade in management consulting, where he helped shape transformative strategies for some of the largest organizations in healthcare, including major payers, providers, pharma/biotech companies, and global health organizations. Matt earned his Master of Business Administration and Master of Public Health degrees from the University of California at Berkeley, and his Bachelor's degree from the University of Southern California.

Brian Ritchie

Brian Ritchie FSA, MAAA, Assistant Director Actuarial at Cambia Health Solutions leads Strategic Provider Analytics for Regence Blue Cross Blue Shield including provider efficiency analytics, accountable health arrangements, payment policy design, and provider reimbursement innovation.
